

Prof. Carlo Gelmetti

Carlo Gelmetti was born in Milan (Italy) in 1950 and studied medicine at University of Milan Medical School and then Dermatology under the late professor Ferdinando Gianotti. Professor of Dermatology and Venereology since 2001. He has been the Head of the Pediatric Dermatology Unit of the Academic Hospital: “Ospedale Maggiore Policlinico”, until November 2020, when he retired. Member of many academic societies (EADV, AAD, ADA, ISPD, ESPD), he is particularly interested in genodermatoses, vascular anomalies, exanthems, atopic dermatitis, nevi and history of dermatology. He is honorary member of ESPD (European Society for Pediatric Dermatology) and honorary member of ESHDV (European Society for the History of Dermatology and Venereology).