

Magnus Unemo is an associate Professor at Örebro University, Sweden, and directs a global WHO Collaborating Centre for STIs as well as the Swedish Reference Laboratory for STIs. His laboratory together with Public Health Agency in the UK serves ECDC with STI reference functions and runs the European Gonococcal Antimicrobial Susceptibility Programme (Euro-GASP) in the European Union/European Economic Area. Main research: N. gonorrhoeae and other bacterial STIs such as C. trachomatis, M. genitalium, syphilis; >410 peer-reviewed PubMed-indexed publications and numerous chapters in international scientific books. The research includes diagnostics, molecular epidemiology, genome sequencing, antimicrobial resistance, antimicrobial resistance mechanisms, treatment, pharmacokinetics/pharmacodynamics, and international guidelines.