

Dr Patrick Horner is an Honorary Associate Professor in Sexually Transmitted Infections at the University of Bristol who recently retired in February 2022. He previously worked as a Clinical academic at Unity Sexual Health, Bristol. He has long standing research interests in the epidemiology, diagnosis and treatment of Chlamydia trachomatis, Mycoplasma genitalium, non-gonococcal urethritis and the chronic pelvic pain syndrome in men on which he has published widely.

