

Teodora Elvira Wi M.D. is currently the Team Lead, Sexually Transmitted Infection (STIs) in the Department of Global HIV, Hepatitis and STIs Programmes, World Health Organization (WHO), Geneva. In WHO HQ, she leads the implementation of the Global Health Sector Strategy on STIs 2022-2030. She is leading the provision of technical support to countries, the development of WHO STI guidelines, addressing antimicrobial resistance in STIs and facilitating the development of new STI treatment and diagnostics. She also worked as a team lead for HIV/AIDS and STI in the Western Pacific Regional Office, WHO. She has more than twenty-five years of experience in HIV and STI programming in various countries in Africa, Asia and Latin America with WHO and Family Health International.

