

Valeska Padovese - consultant in dermatology and venereology at the genitourinary clinic, Mater Dei Hospital, Malta.

She is visiting professor at the University of Malta medical school and IUSTI Europe board member representing Malta.

Since 2020, Dr Padovese has been appointed external advisor of the International Foundation for Dermatology, Migrants Health Dermatology Working Group .

In the last few years, Dr Padovese took part to voluntary missions in Jordan, where she carried on clinical and research work on skin conditions in Syrian refuges, and in Bangladesh, in support of the Rohingya refugees.

In 2020 Dr Padovese started a research grant with the aim to use mobile and digital technologies for increase the health of migrant populations in Malta and Lebanon.